

I am very concerned that Congress should allow this further erosion of democracy.

Without truly independent media there will only be a further trivializing and lack of balance in news coverage. If there is inadequate news reporting how can people exercise their rights? Did we just fight a war only to provide such a miserable example for Iraq to follow?